

(Released) April 5, 2017

Instructions

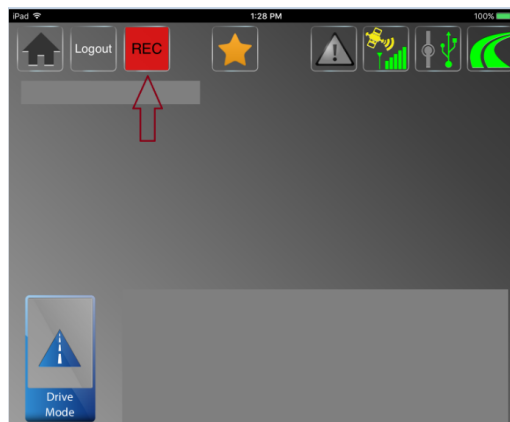

“Turning Video Recording On & Off”

Video Data Server (VDS) must be powered on

Using a iPad

1. Connecting to the VDS using Wi-Fi

- Under iPad settings, select the Road-iQ Wi-Fi network and enter in your password
- Log into the Road-iQ connected App with your user name and password
- Select “REC” button at the top of the screen – It must be the color RED to record video

- Logout of the Road-iQ connected App and turn off the iPad if desired.

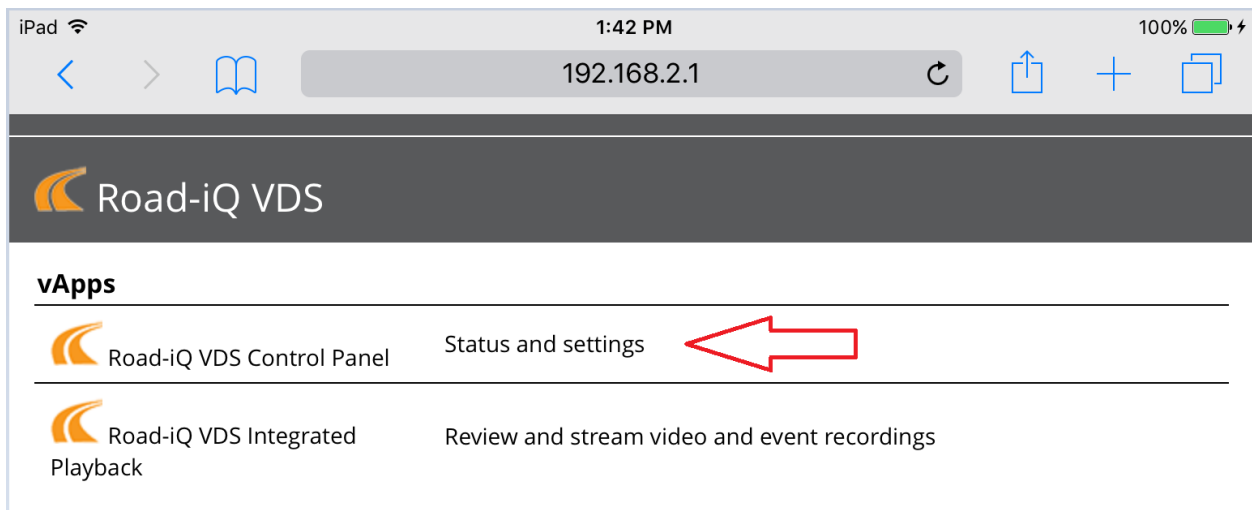

2. Connecting to the VDS using USB charging cable (Hard wired)

- Select “REC” button at the top of the screen – It must be the color RED to record video
- Turn off the iPad if desired.

Using a Laptop

1. Connecting to the VDS using Wi-Fi

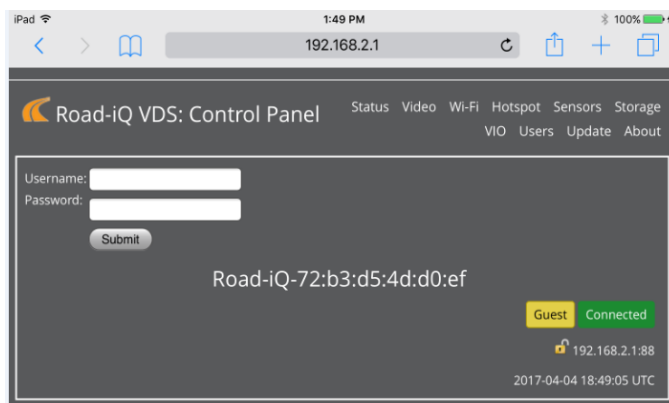

- Choose the Road-iQ Wi-Fi network and enter in your password
- Log into the VDS control panel by entering the I.P. address 192.168.2.1 in a web browser
- Select “Road-iQ VDS Control panel” – see photo below

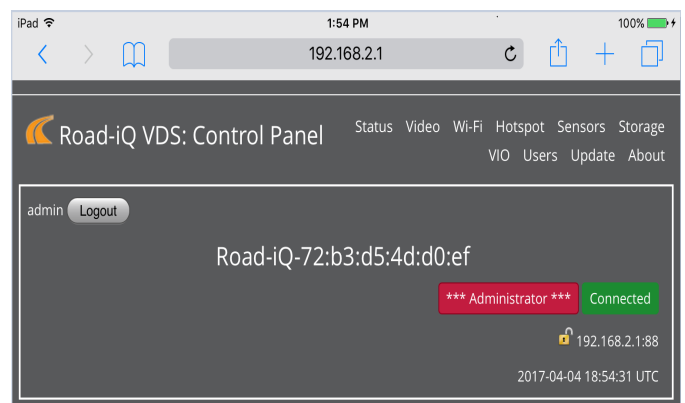

- Log in as an administrator under the Control Panel – See photos below

Username = admin

Password = password

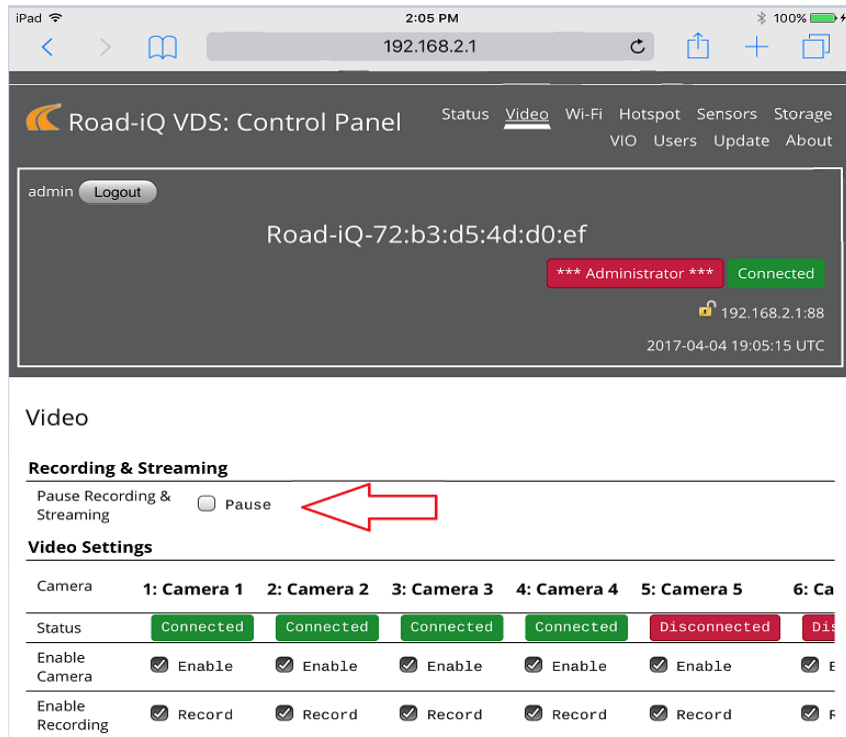

Before

After

- e. Select “Video” at the top right of the VDS Control Panel page – see photo below
- f. To Record video make sure that Video Recording & Streaming Pause check box is NOT selected. Refer to Red arrow in photo below.
- g. Logout

NOTE: You can also can power off individual cameras as well as turn on and off recording of each camera under this menu by unselecting the Enable check boxes under each connected camera as show in the photo above.

2. Connecting to the VDS using Ethernet cable (Hard wired)

Note: Refer to photos above for refrence

- a. Log into the VDS control panel by entering the I.P. address 192.168.2.1 in a web browser
- b. Select “Road-iQ VDS Control panel”

-
- c. Log in as an administrator by entering the following Login info under the Control Panel.

Username = admin

Password = password

- d. Select “Video” at the top right of the VDS Control Panel page
- e. To Record video make sure that Video Recording & Streaming Pause check box is NOT selected.